

It's fitting that this Trail should be a long, lazy loop, that it should take its time winding down to the Chesapeake Bay and back, with frequent slow side trips to the rivers that sketch the outline of St. Mary's County. There have been startling changes here in recent years, yet most of the roads still lead to places of quiet and beauty. The views are punctuated by a recurring counterpoint of tobacco barns, the weathered wood a reminder that it's best to go slowly and savor a way of life that still celebrates good conversation and good neighbors ... a way of life rooted in a place as old as our nation itself.

At this relaxed pace, you'll find a feast of details to touch and see and feel. Shells and scraps of glass scoured smooth by the surf create a mosaic along the water's edge at St. Clement's, and you're never far from the sheer joy of beach sand between your bare toes. There are a thousand small delights to explore: the soft touch of alpaca wool at Crazy for Ewe, the spicy scent of boxwood at Woodlawn, the sparkle of stained glass at the North End Gallery. At the Blue Wind Gourmet, Rob Plant will introduce you to local wines and lunches made with fresh ingredients. And for dinner at Café des Artistes, you'll taste seafood caught by captains that call Southern Maryland home.

You'll visit the studios of artists like Sarah Houde, where you can watch glazed clay emerge from the kiln as a fired fish platter, and the farm at Evergreen Acres, where Roger and Nancy Lavoie can help you cut the perfect, pine-scented centerpiece for your holiday. And you'll find just for a while — that you've stepped inside an experience that is truly extraordinary.

In the end, we hope you come away with a renewed sense of adventure ... with an appreciation for the history and spirit we have found here ... with a unique memory and some new friends. We hope you take a new look at some familiar places. And in the end, we hope you find all the things you didn't know you were looking for.

Three Notch Trail

This paved hiking/biking trail will eventually run from Hughesville to Lexington Park along the 28-mile, county-owned railroad right of way (parallel to Three Notch Road). The northernmost sections are already complete and have been discovered by happy hikers, bikers, walkers and horseback riders. Open year-round sunrise to sunset. www.co.saintmarys.md.us/recreate/facilities/threenotchtrail.asp. (HC) (301) 475-4200, ext. 1800

From the Welcome Center, go SOUTH on Route 5 (Leonardtown Road) 4.4 miles to RIGHT to stay on Route 5; go 1.2 miles to RIGHT on Avie Lane.

2 Forrest Hall Farm and Orchards 39136 Avie Lane, Mechanicsville

Forrest Hall Farm was one of the first to join the "maze craze," and owners Mary and Joe Wood have been making mazes for years. "But don't worry, we haven't lost anyone yet," Mary frequently tells visitors. Miles of trails wind through the maze (there are shortcuts!), and when your maze trek comes to an end, you can start your shopping for fall farm goodies: mums, pumpkins and such, plus preserves and gifts in the farm store. (Be sure to visit the "nostalgia corner.") Little ones can roam the pumpkin patch and pick out one "for the road." There are farm animals, games, hayrides and more. You can also get fresh garden produce, apples, peaches and strawberries in season. OpenAug.through Nov. (call for exact dates) Sat. – Sun. 11 a.m. to dusk. (HC) (301) 884-3086, www.forresthallfarm.com

Continue on Route 5 (Leonardtown Road) 1.7 miles to RIGHT on Route 238 (Chaptico Road). Go 3.6 miles to circle; exit circle at Route 238 (now Maddox Road). Go 5.2 miles to RIGHT into Longview Beach development. (Road becomes Pleasant Lane.) Continue 1.2 miles to LEFT on Wicomico Drive, then 0.4 miles to house on RIGHT with bright red roof.

Painting with Fire/Artwear by Barbara Lewis 22626 Mill Creek Drive, Chaptico

Nestled on the waterfront of St. Mary's County overlooking tranquil Mill Creek is an artist's studio where you can "paint with fire without getting burned." Barbara's unique torchfiring enamel approach creates fanciful, romantic and fun-loving artwear for the woman who embraces the unexpected and makes a statement with her jewelry. Barbara welcomes you to her color-rich studio and creative workspace to try your hand at the torch or to have a unique shopping experience. She teaches nationally at workshops and at her studio, and she will produce the first-ever book on this technique published by North Light Books in 2011. Open year-round by appointment only. (HC)

Robert E. Pogue Memorial Park at Bushwood Wharf

While this spot functions primarily as a public boat launch, complete with ramp and pier, it's also a beautiful spot to drink in the scenic view, eat a picnic lunch and listen to a breeze rustling the reeds. (If you didn't bring a picnic, you can walk across to Quade's Store and pick up snacks in a snap!) It's a great site to spot red-shouldered blackbirds, egrets and herons, and to relax and recharge the soul. Open daily sunrise to sunset. (301) 475-4200, ext. 1811, www.co.saint-marys. md.us/recreate/facilities/publiclandings.asp

15 ♣ Quade's Store

Alice Quade has run this family business for 75 years, and the sight of her behind the counter feeding hordes of hungry locals is as much a part of the area as the osprey overhead and the work boats on the river. Take a seat by the window, crack the morning paper and watch the watermen unloading at the Bushwood Wharf pier while you wait for a crab cake sandwich or savory soup that she and her grandson George make by hand. With a lunch counter on one side and a bar and fishing supplies on the other, Quade's is a favorite for boaters, for locals and for those who know this is one of the best fishing spots around. Diner open Thurs. – Sat. 7:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., Sun. til 6 p.m. Store open daily. (301) 769-3903

Here's a sweet incentive to spend a few spring hours on a farm with the family ... juicy ripe strawberries! Owners Kari and Kevin Ritchey have some already picked and waiting, or you may wander through the berry patch in search of your own choice morsels. If the kids get tired of picking, send them off to the petting park, the pedal tractors, the giant sandbox or the maze. (You can keep an eye on the entire play area while you pick.) There's a farm store where you can purchase preserves and other goodies, and nearby, you can a get a peek at several longhorn cattle (which the Ritcheys raise for breeding stock and for delicious lean beef). Open May through early June Mon. - Fri. 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sat. 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sun. noon to 5 p.m. (Call first to check on crop availability.) Open in the fall by appointment for group events and school tours. (HC) (301) 769-3878, www. southerncomfortberryfarm.com

Moore or Less Farm 22467 Colton's Point Road, Bushwood

Your first view of this 65-acre farm owned by Moe and Elissa Moore will be the restored 75-year-old tobacco barn and colorful farm stand stocked with fruits, vegetables, seasonal flowers and alpaca products made from their own alpacas. If you want to experience more of this fascinating farm (a working tobacco farm until 2005) you'll need to make an appointment, and the Moores will introduce you to their high-quality Suri alpacas as well as various cows, chickens, pigs, and even Minnie Pearl, the resident miniature donkey. Many things are planned for this farm in the coming years, including pick-your-own blackberries and raspberries and choose-and-cut Christmas trees. Come back often and see what's new. Open April through Dec. Sat. and Sun. 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. (HC) (301)769-2210, www.mooreorlessfarm.com

RIGHT out of driveway on Route 242 (Colton's Point Road), then 4.2 miles to studio on RIGHT. (Look for blue sign.)

20259 Colton's Point Road, Colton's Point

As you study the sculptures by artist Sharon Balenger, you're struck by the intensity of raw emotion immortalized in the rough red clay and earthy glazes, and yet there's a touch of gentleness even in the most wrenching poses. Many of the works are based on patients she meets in her job as a registered nurse (pain management therapist); some are elderly or Hospice patients that she has known through the years. Sharon started sculpting at age 50 as an outlet for the stress of her job, and she has recently branched into abstract painting as well. (She also offers painting and sculpture lessons.) And there's an additional treat here ... next to the studio is a detached apartment "retreat" available to rent. Fully furnished, it sleeps four and has a full kitchen. It would make a perfect getaway for a working artist (with studio privileges), or anyone who enjoys art, as it's decorated with Sharon's painting and sculptures. It's near the water for those who enjoy beachcombing and earlymorning strolls. Studio open year-round Mon. noon to 4 p.m. Open Sat. and Sun. Call ahead when possible. Apartment available by day, weekend or more. (301) 769-3273

Beach Glass: Gorgeous Gifts From the Sea

All the crazy beach glass gurus come to the Chesapeake area from all over the world in hopes of finding smooth shards of glass that have become frosted and glistening from decades of tumbling and tossing under the surf.

In recent years, collecting these treasured nuggets has become a popular pastime. It takes decades to create pure beach glass, so prime hunting grounds are areas that, like here, had active seaports about a hundred years ago. Some people turn these colorful nuggets into jewelry; others trade, display or just collect them. Orange and red are the rarest and most sought-after colors in the Chesapeake region.

Many believe beach glass will soon disappear, partly because of the explosion of plastic since the 1960s, and also because more people are becoming ecologically aware and no longer throw their trash overboard.

9 ଛ St. Clement's Island Museum

38370 Point Breeze Road, Colton's Point

Explore the rich history of Maryland's Colonial beginning at the St. Clement's Island Museum. Exhibits and an orientation film interpret the history of St. Clement's Island, and be sure to see the mural depicting the landing of the original settlers. Visit the Potomac River Dory Boat Exhibit and the 1820s one-room school on the grounds. Take a water taxi to St. Clement's Island (call ahead for water taxi schedule) and explore the place where Maryland began. Enjoy hiking trails, picnic areas and the replica of the Blackistone Lighthouse. *Open year-round. St. Clement's Island / Blackistone Lighthouse 38370 Point Breeze Road, Colton's Point

St. Clement's Island is certainly among the most significant sites to define our state's heritage. It was here, in 1634, that the first Colonists came ashore and proclaimed this a land of religious tolerance. (The original inhabitants went on to establish their settlement in what would become St. Mary's City.) Today, a 40-foot cross commemorates the arrival of these settlers. A replica of the Blackistone Lighthouse (originally built in 1851) graces the island's skyline. The island is a state park, offering a picnic pavilion and a walking trail tracing the island's scenic shoreline. The island is available to the public year-round and is accessible by private boat or by the water taxi from the St. Clement's Island Museum. Island open dawn to dusk. Water taxi tours available on weekends in season. (301) 769-2222, www.stmarysmd.com/recreate/museums

Acres of variable aged trees greet you by land or water as you approach this cozy cottage resting on the shore of St. Clement Bay. This 130-acre tree farm owned by John and Karen Colton, called Colton's Shipping Point, has been in the family since 1888. As you drive deeper into the woods, younger stands of trees give way to a mature forest ... a wonderland tucked away on the water's edge. The focal point is the two-bedroom cottage, perfect for a family getaway or a couple's retreat. Fully furnished and accented by family antiques, it features a new kitchen and breathtaking views. So relax and slow down in what John and Karen refer to as Southern Maryland's version of paradise. If you come by water: latitude 38 16 09 N, longitude 76 43 15 W. Open year-round; please call for reservations. (301) 807-0988, (301) 769-4359, www.ColtonShippingPointFarm.com

Bowles Farms / A Maze N Place, LLC 22880 Budds Creek Road, Clements

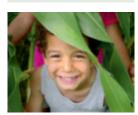

When Tina Bowles tells you to "get lost," she's not being rude, she's inviting you to lose yourself in a 15-acre corn masterpiece on the Bowles family farm, each year with a different theme. If three miles of trails cut through 10-foot stalks seem ambitious, there's always the children's miniature straw maze. Petting zoo, pumpkins, hayrides, farm toys and plenty of parking make for a day of family fun. And if you want to have even "mower" fun, don't miss the annual lawn mower races! When you get hungry, there's a large country kitchen with plenty of good, home-grown cooking. Open Sept. 25 through Oct. 31, Mon. – Fri. by appointment (school trips, large groups), Sat. 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., Sun. 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. (HC) (301) 475-2139, www.bowlesfarms.com

Catch a Crab

Around here, crabbing is just another word for relaxing! It's easy ... find a peaceful stretch of pier, tie a line on a chicken neck and wait for a nibble. Watch the birds. Eat a snack. Soak up some sun. When you feel a tug, net yourself a crab ... or not.

Buggy X-ing

Throughout the area, you'll often share the road with horse-drawn buggies used by Amish and Mennonites. Drive carefully!

(Out of respect, the Amish ask that you do not photograph them.)

Rustic River Bar & Grill

When Chef Rick Stommel arrived in Southern Maryland, he immediately took a liking to the unique way St. Mary's County cuisine incorporates traditional Chesapeake Bay-style seafood with Southern comfort food and hospitality. With this blend as the inspiration for the menu, Rustic River Bar & Grill offers everything from Maryland seafood, to classic southern dishes, to brick oven pizzas and calzones. There's something for everyone and — in the vein of Southern simplicity — it's all reasonably priced. Rick and co-owners Dina and Matt Kulp have created a warm, family-friendly atmosphere that, with daily specials like "All U Can Eat Mussels" and "Kids Eat Free," will make it a favorite place to dine or hang out any night of the week. Rustic River also offers affordable, casual catering and full-service catering for formal events. Open year-round, weekends 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., weekdays 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. (HC) (301) 997-1700, www.rusticriver.net

Port of Leonardtown Winery 23190 Newtowne Neck Road

St. Mary's County's first winery made its long-awaited official debut in 2010. Operated by the Southern Maryland Wine Growers Cooperative, the first agricultural co-op of its kind in Maryland, Port of Leonardtown Winery uses grapes grown by local farmers. Six wines were ready for the spring opening, including McIntosh Run, a semi-sweet apple wine, Breton Bay Breeze, a semi-sweet white blend and Breton Bay Shoals, a semi-sweet red blend. Drop by the winery or a local wine festival to try a taste. Open year-round Wed. – Sun. noon to 6 p.m. Extended evening hours on First Fridays. (HC) (301) 884-3086, www.portofleonardtown.com

Shelby's Creative Custom Framing and Art 26005 Point Lookout Road, Leonardtown

If good things come in small packages, the tiny paintings known as "miniatures" that are Shelby Oppermann's specialty must be fantastic. Many of these diminutive masterpieces (some are a mere 5/8" wide) will fit in the palm of your hand. And you'll find other unusual treasures, large and small, in the Turning Leaf Gallery, situated in the front room of Shelby's full-service frame shop ... stained glass, fine art photographs, wood carvings and more. More than 30 artists are represented, in addition to Shelby herself. She is a Certified Picture Framer, one of the first 400 in the world, and her specialty is archival framing. So consider bringing along one of your own heirlooms, and talk to her about making it a focal point in your home with an innovative frame or display treatment that will preserve it for the future. Open Tues. – Fri. 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sat. 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and First Fridays until 8 p.m. (HC) (301) 904-2532, www.shelbyscustomframing.com

Wiewpoint Art Studio / Karen Quam Russell 41950 Swans Court, Leonardtown

This site offers twice the delight! Upstairs, you'll find the fine art studio and gallery of Karen Quam Russell, and to the right of the main entrance, the woodworking shop of Leon B. Russell. When you enter Karen's upstairs gallery, it's like slipping inside a painting. The colorful walls and wood floors accentuate delicate watercolor florals and the exciting abstracts that are Karen's new speciality. Just beyond, her working studio (where she paints and also teaches watercolor classes) looks out on a stunning view of the water that can almost — but not quite — distract you from the art. Her work is available as prints as well as originals, and she also offers hand-painted silk scarves (the "Russell of Silk"). Open most days; best to call first to be sure. (301) 475-7225, www.karenquamrussell.com

Creekside Fine Woodworking/Leon B. Russell 41950 Swans Court, Leonardtown

In Leon's fine woodworking shop, an enormous collection of well-kept tools hints at the high-end craftsmanship in every piece he creates. He has done many commissioned furniture pieces (china cabinets, dining room tables, rocking chairs), and he offers a changing selection of jewelry boxes, tea boxes, chests, serving spoons and other items for sale. Karen's and Leon's work can also be seen in galleries and boutiques throughout the area. Ladies, here's the perfect place to take your hubby, even if he's not an art aficionado. He can browse in the wood shop while you shop in the studio! Open most days; best to call first to be sure. (301) 475-7225, www.karenquamrussell.com

🕰 ಿ St. Mary's River State Park Camp Cosoma Road, Leonardtown

The drive down Camp Cosoma Road takes you to one of two areas that make up St. Mary's River State Park. From here, at the northern end of the St. Mary's River watershed, you can explore a wide range of environments, from wooded acres and fields to swamps and small streams that surround the 250-acre St. Mary's Lake. A 7.5-mile trail circles the lake, allowing the area to be fished from shore or by boat. (Freshwater fishing is popular here.) The lake has been designated a trophy bass lake and as such, special fishing regulations may be in effect. There are hiking trails and picnic facilities as well. Open year-round daily. 3 Allen's Articles / Christina Allen 18988 Point Lookout Road, Park Hall

This unusual stop is actually two separate adventures:

On weekends (by appointment), owner Christina Allen hosts personal farm/garden tours of this working homestead, which features lambs, sheep, rare Jersey Buff turkeys, chickens and a large, year-round organic garden. There is also a spinning, weaving and knitting room where Christina makes garments from the sheep's wool and from homegrown, organically colored cotton. You'll be treated to a unique learning experience and a chance to connect with the true spirit of Southern Maryland. During the week, visit the "Corn Crib Studio," a converted 1880s cedar corn crib-turned gallery/workshop where Christina paints and does custom framing. You can view works in progress and purchase art (prints and originals); many are watercolors of Southern Maryland landscapes and the Chesapeake Bay. Interested in a lesson? Christina has teamed up with other Trails sites to offer an exciting "partner package" painting workshop for small groups in a beautiful outdoor setting. (Call or check the website for current information.) Studio/ Art: Mon. – Fri. 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Farm/Garden tours available weekends by appointment only. One hour maximum per visit. Jeanne Norton Hammett Serigraphs

48721 Whitaker Road, St. Inigoes

The vivid and dynamic style of artist Jeanne Norton Hammett has garnered her a place among Maryland's leading printmakers. Her original, limited-edition (signed and numbered) serigraphs are each hand-printed using a series of stretched silk screens with handmade stencils. Her deft use of color captures the moody quality of weather and the changing lighting of our local landscape. You can view her work in her newly remodeled gallery/studio, a work of art in itself, featuring specialized cabinetry and a sailboat-shaped picture window designed by Donnie Hammett. You're likely to leave here with at least one piece of beautiful art and an expanded understanding of this fascinating hand-printing process. Open year-round by appointment. 16040 Woodlawn Lane, Ridge

Stunning views of the Potomac River, relaxing strolls through the well-tended gardens, and intriguing archways carved through antique boxwood will lure you back to Woodlawn again and again. Woodlawn was part of Lord Calvert's Retreats in Southern Maryland, and you'll enjoy exploring hidden secrets and historical details of this 200-year-old restored manor house. Be sure to tour the English-style formal gardens, including inside the boxwood arbors. (You may even go home with a cutting for your own garden.) While Woodlawn has a rich history, there are also many plans for the future: expanded formal gardens, an "outdoor office" within the gardens for business meetings and retreats, and a new winery in a renovated barn on the grounds. *Open year-round. Buzzy's Country Store 12665 Point Lookout Road, Ridge

Since the late 1800s, Buzzy's Country Store has been the place where locals gather to chat with neighbors and new faces are always welcome. Owner J. Scott Ridgell has kept the best of the old: penny candy, a vintage Coke cooler, a baseball cap collection that his father, Buzzy, collected over the years and the friendly family St. Bernard named Bruno that greets customers. (The current Bruno is number eight.) And he has added to that some fun new twists: wi-fi and an Internet blog and occasionally even karaoke. It all adds up to a casual ambiance you won't find at any modern convenience store. The place is well-stocked with snacks, candy, bait, drinks and other "liquid refreshments." Open year-round 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. (HC) (301) 994-0826, www.buzzyscountrystore.com

Cozy Cupboard Art Gallery Mary Lou and Jeff Troutman

49510 Lois Lane, Ridge

Mary Lou Troutman is well-known for her painted scenes that celebrate her love of the land and life by the water. Many of her pieces are quiet and reflective, tinged with a strong sense of nostalgia, so you may be surprised when you meet her to find she herself is quite the opposite ... lively and animated and always on the move. She will tell you easily about her strong ties to this area (she grew up in Southern Maryland) and her appreciation of family (her husband, Jeff, and her two children are a strong force in her business). But if you have seen her artwork, you've probably realized all that already. Her work (giclee prints and originals) is collected by locals and can be found in private and corporate collections from coast to coast. Open daily 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. (Best to call first to confirm.) ⚠ T&A Farm

18281 St. Jerome's Neck Road, Dameron

T&A Farm is a great way to experience Southern Maryland's down-home appeal. The farm has been in the Trossbach family for 117 years; Tom and Abby planted the first pumpkin patch in 1999 and have been inviting the public to come and experience the farm ever since. Pick your own strawberries in May, and in the fall ... pick a pumpkin — any pumpkin. You will ride away with a lot more than a "jack" for your lantern. You'll have had the chance to walk through the petting pen with all your favorite farm animals, run through a mini-straw maze, take a stroll through a cornfield and of course chat with the Trossbach family about your favorite pumpkin pie recipe. Open May and Oct. Call for hours and pickup times. (HC) (301) 872-5003, www.tandafarm.webs.com

Wood Windfall Studio Gerry Wood

22948 Gunston Drive, Lexington Park

The workspace of artist Gerry Wood may strike you as a place where learning and growing as an artist are as much a priority as the painting process ... her studio/gallery clearly does double duty as an active classroom, with a half-dozen or so paint-specked tables arranged around a work-in-progress. Gerry is well-known on the Southern Maryland art scene; she is active in art organizations, shows and galleries in addition to giving watercolor lessons in her studio. In her words, she is "constantly striving to create new and exciting paintings, to expand my horizons, and attend workshops to learn more techniques to teach to my students." Her own work features landscapes, lighthouses, florals, classic cars, tulips, poppies and geraniums. Open year-round by appointment only. (301) 863-9663, www.artbygerry.com

The work of full-time potter Sarah Houde can be seen in galleries, shows and homes throughout Maryland, Virginia and beyond. She creates beautiful functional pieces (fish platters, bakers, casseroles, mugs, etc.), many of which are inspired by the fish, plants, etc. native to this area. She also creates decorative works (raku, urns, wall plaques, sculptural pieces). Sarah's studio includes a gallery area with finished pieces for sale, and a workshop where you'll get a first-hand look at how the pieces are made, from clay to kiln. If you're intrigued by the thought of playing with clay, ask Sarah about classes. (Want to come by boat? Call for directions.) Don't miss the annual open studio, first weekend of December, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. both days, no need to call ahead. Please bring canned food for a local food bank. Open by appointment.
